

the 1990s, the number of people with a mental health problem has increased by 50% (Mental Health Foundation 2000). The prevalence of mental health problems has increased in the general population, and the incidence of mental health problems has increased in the prison population.

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the mental health needs of prisoners. The Department of Health (2000) has published a strategy for mental health services, which includes a commitment to improve the mental health of prisoners. Requirements for Admission.

All candidates for admission must be of suitable age, and must present satisfactory evidence of good moral character.

A fair knowledge of the common branches is requisite for admission to the Preparatory class.

Candidates for advanced standing must pass a satisfactory examination upon the studies pursued by the class which they propose entering, or in their equivalents.

Candidates properly prepared in some studies for admission to a higher class, but deficient in others, will be required to make up their requisitions by regular recitations in the lower classes. This requirement is essential to proper progress in the higher branches.

No vicious, idle, or disobedient student will be retained in the Institution, nor will such be knowingly received.

Ornamental Department.

I. Course in Vocal Music.

Two classes are organized in Vocal Music at the beginning of each Term. The advanced class has drill exercises and practice in Quartette and Chorus Singing. The second class is designed for beginners and such as are not sufficiently proficient to read music readily and correctly.

II. Course in Instrumental Music.

1. On the Piano.

Richardson's Instruction Book; Czerney's Ecole de Velocite, Books 1, 2 and 3. Selections from popular composers.

2. On the Organ.

Root and Cady's School for the Organ; Vocal and Instrumental Sheet Music.

3. On the Guitar.

Curtiss's Method for the Spanish Guitar; Vocal and Instrumental Sheet Music.

The Fine Arts.

In this department we aim to make the student acquainted with nature,—to train mind and soul, as well as hand and eye. Instruction is given in perspective and the principles of drawing; also, in oil, pastel, crayon and water colors; in faces, figures, fruit and landscape, both from models and from nature.

General Remarks.

LEBANON VALLEY COLLEGE is located at Annville, a pleasant rural village, situated in one of the most delightful portions of the beautiful Lebanon Valley. The village is noted for its healthfulness and freedom from those temptations to vice so common to cities and large towns. It is easily accessible from all points, being located on the direct route of Railroad travel from Harrisburg, via Reading, to Philadelphia or New York. Trains stopping at Annville, leave Harrisburg and Reading three times a day, Sundays excepted.

Buildings and Grounds.

There are two large buildings and a campus of about six acres. The buildings are of brick and are capable of accommodating a large number of students. All non-resident students board in the institution, and hence are under the continual care of the President and Professors.

Furnishing and Outfit.

Students are required to furnish their own bedding, excepting the mattress, bolster and pillows. They should have their blankets, sheets, pillows, cases and clothing indelibly marked with their full name.

Discipline.

THE GOVERNMENT of the COLLEGE is strict, but parental.

The object of the Institution is to afford a home, where parents or guardians may place their children and wards with safety and profit, and where young men and young ladies may be fitted for usefulness under influences calculated to refine their tastes, ennoble their aspirations, discipline their intellectual powers, and develop a high Christian character. Every unexpected absence, failure, or misdemeanor, is reported to the faculty, and a record made of the same.

The first three demerit marks will subject a student to private reproof; the first six, to reproof before the faculty; the first nine, to reproof in public with notice to parent or guardian, and the first twelve to dismissal from the college.

The faculty may, on evidence of reformation, restore a dismissed student.

Leave of Absence.

No student is allowed to be absent, during the term, without special leave. The absence of a student, even a day in term time, exerts on his progress an evil influence, which is seldom fully appreciated by parents or guardians; hence no apology but that of sickness, or other unavoidable accident, is sufficient to excuse a student from a regular attendance at recitation.

Recommendations.

The following manuals are recommended,—Anthon's Classical Dictionary, Eschenburg's Manual of Classical Literature, Webster's or Worcester's Unabridged Dictionary, and Long's Classical Atlas.

Religious Services.

Religious service is held in the College Chapel in the morning of each day, which all the students are required to attend.

Students from abroad, who are residents of the College, are also required to attend public worship on the Sabbath with the Faculty, except those who on account of Church membership or wish of parent or guardian may prefer to attend church elsewhere.

Students' prayer meetings, which all are invited to attend, are held on each Friday evening.

Studies and Recitations.

Students will pursue the studies of the classes to which they are assigned unless exempted for special reasons. No student will take a study to which he has not been assigned, nor discontinue a study without permission obtained from the Faculty.

Examinations.

Public examinations will be held at the close of the first term before a committee of the Faculty, and at the close of the year before a committee appointed by the Patronizing Conferences. The examinations are intended to be thorough and have an influence in determining the standing of the student.

In all cases when from any cause a student has failed to be present at the regular examination he shall undergo an examination before being permitted again to recite in the classes of the College.

Rhetorical Exercise.

An Exercise in composition is required of each student once in two weeks: also a public oratorical exercise of the regular College classes, monthly.

Graduation and Degrees.

Every one of the studies prescribed in each course is deemed ESSENTIAL TO GRADUATING in that course.

BACHELOR OF ARTS.—This degree will be conferred in course upon any student of the College who shall complete the studies of the classical course and shall pass a satisfactory examination upon the same.

MISTRESS OF ARTS.—This degree will be conferred in course upon any female student who shall complete the Classical Course, omitting some of the Higher Mathematics and Greek, and substituting German and French.

CERTIFICATE.—To any student who completes the Scientific Course, a Certificate to that effect, will be given.

Literary Society.

There is connected with the College a literary society—the PHILOKOSMIAN LITERARY SOCIETY,—which is in a flourishing condition.

Text Books.

All the text-books used can be obtained at the college at reasonable rates.

Terms and Vacations.

The Collegiate year is divided into three terms. The Fall Term will begin on Monday, August 21st, and will end on Friday, December the 22nd. The Winter Term will begin on Monday, January 15, 1872, and will close on Friday, March 22nd, 1872. The Spring Term will begin on Monday, March 25th, 1872, and will close on Friday, June 13th, 1872.

Students should enter, if possible, on the first day of the term.

Commercial Course.

THEORETICAL.

This embraces the principles and rudiments of business, such as Penmanship, Commercial Arithmetic, Commercial Law, and Book-Keeping. In the latter he is required to keep ten sets of books, embracing the whole theory of the science of accounts, together with all the rules for journalizing, posting, checking, taking Trial Balance, making out Balance Sheets, closing Ledger, making out Business Papers, &c, &c. After completing the studies of this department, and passing a satisfactory examination thereon he is admitted into the Actual Business Department.

PRACTICAL.

Here the business transpiring among the students, is just as actual as that which takes place in the business world; he buys and sells, handles bank bills and specie, deposits and checks out the same; gives and takes notes; draws and accepts drafts, executes accounts, sale and current; makes out invoices, bills, &c. He first commences as a sole trader, and after passing through all the manipulations of trade, and becoming conversant with the rules and law relating thereto, he takes in a partner, being now prepared through increase of capital and enlarged experience to extend his business operations. He then engages in some branch of Wholesale Jobbing, or Manufacturing business. Collections are made through banks and private agencies, and remittances sent in the usual manner. In buying and selling he learns to watch carefully all the phases of the market and to study the theory of gains from the practice he is afforded. He is also thoroughly drilled in original entries of all kinds and learns to rely on himself. Having had sufficient practice in this direction, he passes to the other departments and becomes, in turn, proprietor or employee in a Commission House, Forwarding House, Grain Emporium, Railroad Office, &c. From these positions he passes into the Merchandise Emporium, where he becomes in turn Shipping Clerk, Salesman, Book-Keeper and Business Manager.

After passing through all the offices and giving evidence of his proficiency he is at last passed into the INTERNATIONAL COLLEGE BANK, where he becomes a financier and learns to apply the lessons of his course in this direction. The BANK is fitted up in the most elegant style and is furnished with a complete set of books, embracing a Debit Journal, Credit Journal, General Ledger, Deposit Ledger, Discount Register, Collection Register, Domestic Tickler, Foreign Tickler, Passed Collection Book, Cash Book, Transfer Book, Installment Scrips, Certificates of Stock, &c. The Bank discounts notes, receives and pays money on deposit, makes collections, issues certificates of Stock, Certificates of Deposit, Bills of Exchange, &c., precisely the same as any regular bank. The student in turn performs all the duties connected with the following offices, viz: Collection Clerk, Discount Clerk, Receiving Teller, Paying Teller, Book-Keeper, Cashier, and becomes familiar with all the entries and processes practised in banks.

A description in detail of the operations of the Commercial Department would be neither more nor less than a portraiture of the regular business operations of any well ordered and extensive mercantile community. Nothing is feigned, all is real. Every note given, deposit made or check drawn, is for a consideration and represents value. Every experienced business man will readily perceive the superior advantages of such a system of training, as it alone can secure that degree of skill and accuracy which the exigencies of business so imperatively demand.

No student will be admitted into this department who has not a fair knowledge of the common branches, and a good moral character. Daily lessons will be given in Commercial Law, Commercial Arithmetic and Penmanship, besides special class drills, once every week, in Consignments, Merchandise, Companies, &c. When a student has completed the course and passed a satisfactory examination upon the same, he will receive a Diploma. The time required to complete a course is from four to eight months, varying according to the ability and application of the student.
